

Erin Robertson

Arctic Press and Public Affairs Officer

Erin Robertson joined the U.S. Foreign Service in 2009 and has served tours in Afghanistan, Egypt and as a UN Desk Officer in Washington. In her current capacity as the State Department's Arctic Press and Public Affairs Officer, she handles media, communications and public outreach for the U.S. Chairmanship of the Arctic Council. Prior to joining the State Department, Erin worked in political, press and public affairs at the British Consulate-General, Los Angeles and later at the British Embassy in Washington. Raised in Alaska, she studied political science at the University of California, San Diego and earned her Master's Degree in peace and conflict studies from the University of Sydney, Australia. She speaks French, Russian, Spanish and Arabic with varying degree of fluency.