

Matthew Kastrinsky

Administrative Officer

Matthew Kastrinsky is the Administrative Officer in the Office of Ocean and Polar Affairs at the U.S. Department of State. Before joining the U.S. Arctic Council Chairmanship team, he served as a coordinator in the office responsible for foreign language testing at the Foreign Service Institute, the Department of State's official diplomatic training center. He has extensive experience in private sector logistics and has also worked as an English teacher in China. Originally from Nashville, Tennessee, Matthew holds a B.A. in International Affairs from the University of Mary Washington in Fredericksburg, Virginia.